Next Level Security Systems Boosts Industry Expertise with Key Appointments
Industry veterans bring extensive industry experience to newly formed company

Carlsbad, Calif. – March 2, 2010 – Next Level Security Systems, (www.nlss.com), a manufacturer of a new breed of unified, networked security solutions, has appointed three key individuals to its team of security industry veterans to sales and business development roles.

Jumbi Edulbehram has been named Vice President of Business Development; Bill Jacobs joins as Vice President of Access Control; and David Wedel will serve as Regional Sales Director.

“These three individuals have extensive experience in the security industry and I am pleased to welcome them to the Next Level team,” said Peter Jankoswki, Chairman and CEO, Next Level Security Systems. “The addition of Jumbi, Bill and David will help us deliver on our mission of providing enterprise-class networked solutions that are cost effective and easy-to-deploy.”

Edulbehram will lead business development efforts for Next Level Security Systems. Prior to joining the company, he was Director of Business Development at Axis Communications, where he was responsible for the technology partnership program, consultant (A&E) program, industry liaison program, and for developing new business in industry segments such as retail, government and transportation. He was also responsible for strategic new business initiatives such as the Axis’ Video Hosting System. Prior to Axis, he was Vice President of Strategic Marketing and Business Development at IntelliVid, a provider of unique intelligent video analysis software for the retail market; IntelliVid was acquired by Tyco/ADT in 2008.

Bill Jacobs has more than 27 years of experience in security management and has the very unique qualification of having been a client, thus understanding security from an end-user's perspective. During the course of his career, he has worked in the capacity as an operations manager for a large systems integrator, as a security design consultant in his own practice and as a security/risk manager for multiple high-tech companies. He recently served as the Director of Physical Security and Integrated Building Technologies for Cisco Systems for 15 years. He is internationally recognized and has spoken at many leading industry conferences.

Wedel has extensive experience in the industry and proven success in the sales arena for numerous organizations. He most recently served as Executive Vice President, Director of Sales at Ionit Technologies. Prior to his tenure at Ionit, he served as Product Sales Specialist at Cisco Systems and Western Regional Sales Manager at SyPixx Networks.

Next Level Security Systems develops enterprise-class, networked security solutions that are compact, easy-to-deploy and affordable. Developed by some of the industry’s leading engineers and designed to be easy-to-configure, the company’s products have a robust set of capabilities, offered at a significantly lower cost than comparable solutions.

The Next Level's robust product line will be on display at booth 6092 at the 2010 ISC West Conference and Exhibition, held March 24-26 at the Sands Convention Center in Las Vegas.
